The CAZAGO is delighted to present Gordon Stevenson who will lead a service playing workshop focusing on hymn playing, accompaniment, and improvisation. Participants will learn how to lead hymns effectively from the organ, encourage congregational singing, and improvise when necessary throughout a worship service. The workshop is aimed particularly at organists who hold regular church positions at any level (beginner through advanced).

About Gordon

Gordon Stevenson is Organist and Director of Music at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Basilica, a position he has held since 2006. He is from the rural town of Kilwinning, some 30 miles south of Glasgow, on the southwest coast of Scotland. Gordon began playing organ at the age of 11 and received an Associate Diploma from Trinity College of Music, London in 1998, before undertaking a Bachelor's Degree in Music and Theology at the University of Strathclyde, Glasgow, which he received in 2003.

Gordon oversees the liturgical and musical planning at the Basilica and is also a regular contributor to events held by the CAZAGO. He is well known for his improvisational technique and has contributed substantially to the development of the grandeur and solemnity of the Basilica's liturgies. He is honored to be the curator of the fine II/26 Schantz pipe organ (view photo) which was installed under his leadership in 2012.

THE DEAN'S CORNER

Dear Friends,

With Phoenix Youth Rising and the Arizona Bach Festival behind us, I think it is safe to say that 2019 is off to a fantastic start! Our 2019 PYR: Organ Benefit Concert raised over $1,300 toward youth scholarships, remaining one of our primary objectives. Thanks to all who participated and to all who attended! Additionally, Isabelle Demers' concert at All Saints' drew a great crowd. Those who came were treated to a brilliant performance of, among others, the Passacaglia and Fugue in C Minor (BWV 582) and the Canonic Variations on "Vom Himmel hoch da komm' ich her" (BWV 769), preceded by a brilliant masterclass on Saturday morning. Many thanks to Don Morse, Scott Youngs, and the rest of the Arizona Bach Festival Board for making it all happen! I would also like to thank All Saints' Episcopal Church for hosting the recital and masterclass, All Saints' Director of Music Joseph Ripka, and our PYR hosts, Gloria Lien at Lord of Life Lutheran and Jeffrey Porter at Orangewood Presbyterian. We simply could not do it without the support of these wonderful musicians and their congregations.

I also wish to thank Sandra DeValck who will be stepping down as director of our scholarships program. She has done a fantastic job of managing this vital program. Thank you, Sandra!

Our March event is a workshop on hymn playing and improvisation with organist and director of music, Gordon Stevenson, at St. Mary's Basilica on March 23. The Basilica, officially known as The Church of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary, is the second-oldest church in Phoenix and was visited by His Holiness John Paul II (now St. John Paul II) in 1987—two years after he proclaimed it to be a Minor Basilica. It remains a center of musical life in the very heart of Phoenix. Gordon is a brilliant and entertaining musician, so you will not want to miss this opportunity!

With every best wish,

Gary Quamme
Dean, CAZAGO

Next Board Meeting: Monday, March 11, 7:00 PM at All Saints' Episcopal Church.

FROM THE CHAPLAIN'S DESK

The Glory of These Forty Days

In the Christian season of Lent, many of our churches will sing the hymn "The Glory of These Forty Days." The original Latin text dates back to Gregory the Great in the 6th century, translated into English by Maurice Bell, most commonly paired with the 1543 tune Erhalt uns, Herr. (View 1543 Wittenberg hymnal. See p. 134:65.) You may have noticed that the hymn has a rather strange first line: The glory of these forty days we celebrate with songs of praise. Most of us would be unlikely to describe the forty penitential days of Lent as "glorious," nor would we characterize most of the music as "celebration" or "songs of praise." What are Saint Gregory and Bell trying to teach us?

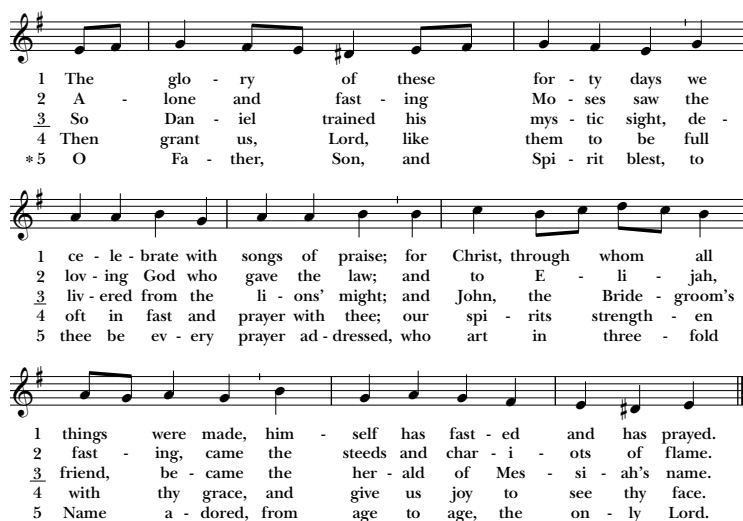

If we dig a little deeper into the text, we find some clues. This is a hymn about fasting: Moses, Elijah, Daniel, and John the Baptist fasted, as did Jesus. And we are meant to do likewise, not as punishment, but for a purpose: Then grant us, Lord, like them to be full oft in fast and prayer with thee; our spirits strengthen with thy grace, and give us joy to see thy face. We fast in Lent (however we understand that practice) that we may be strengthened by God and made ready for the joy of Easter.

In the same way that I worry sometimes that our church's parishioners will tire of so much extended focus on penitence in our worship and preaching in Lent, part of me worries that those who hear our church music will find the relative austerity of the season's musical offerings (the silence, plainsong, subdued organ and choral pieces) a little dreary. But there is glory in these forty days: the liturgy, readings, preaching, and music are compelling, inspiring, and, above all, bracingly honest. They tell the truth about the ways we fall short of God's intent for us in our lives, communities, and nation. And they remind us of our mortality.

There is not only honesty but beauty, too, in these more somber shades of our worship year and in the penitential music of the season. There is comfort in a God who suffers with us in our sorrows. Done well, Lent disciplines us for a transformative Holy Week and a thrilling Easter, when the divine glory that was hidden (though never gone) is revealed once more and we recognize with sudden joy the face of our risen Lord among us.

Thank you, church musicians, for all that you do to make this holy time of year so remarkable. May you, who bless others, be blessed by God in this season.
